BRADLYN WALKER

Psychologist, User Researcher, and UX developer

EDUCATION

Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, Georgia — Masters of Science, Human Computer Interaction

August 2016 - Present
Psychology Specialization

Georgia State University, Atlanta, Georgia — Bachelor of Arts, Psychology

August 2009 - May 2014
Cum Laude

Department of Psychology Distinguished Student

PROJECTS AND PAPERS

Beran, M. J., Bramlett, J., Rossettie, M., Walker, B. M., Evans, T. A., Futch, S. E., & Perdue, B. M. (2016). Self-control assessments of capuchin monkeys (Cebus apella) with the rotating tray task and the accumulation task.

Walker, B. M., Rossettie, M. S., Futch, S. E., Perdue, B. M., Beran, M. J. (2015, October). Save it for Later! Delay of Gratification in the Capuchin Monkey. Psychology Undergraduate Research Conference, Atlanta, GA.

EXPERIENCE

Halyard Health, Alpharetta, GA — Research and Design Technician

MAY 2015 - PRESENT
Created reference instructions for employees on how to operate in-house hardware/software.

Spearheaded usability testing for proprietary LIMS system in medical device workplace.

Consultant for iterative design processes which included rapid prototyping and lean usability testing.

Additional duties include device testing and post-test analysis and reporting.

Georgia State University Language Research Center, Atlanta, GA — Research Intern

MAY 2014 - MAY 2015
Conducted research with nonhuman primates in areas such as self-control, attention, metacognition, and memory.

Assisted in writing research articles that were sent to publication.

Performed data collection and analysis using various statistical tests such as ANOVA, T testing, Chi Square, etc.

SKILLS

UX Methods
A/B testing
Affinity Diagramming
Benchmark testing
Card sorting
Competitive evaluation
Contextual Inquiry
Ethnography
Heuristic evaluation
Interviewing
Literature Reviews
Personas
Scenarios
Surveying
Task flows
Usability Testing

Prototyping
Concept modeling
High and Low fidelity prototyping
Physical Prototyping
Sketching
Wireframing

Development
HTML
CSS
JavaScript
C#

Software
Microsoft Office Suite
Photoshop
Illustrator
Axure
Balsamiq
InVision
Unity

AWARDS AND MEMBERSHIPS

SEPCS Pipeline Scholar- 2016- Present

Psi Chi, Georgia State University Chapter- 2014-Present

INTERESTS

Accessibility
Interactive Narrative
Augmented Reality
Virtual Reality
Play and Creativity